Elder Abuse Protection Toolkit

The Alabama Interagency Council for the Prevention of Elder Abuse, with support from Alabama Power, has made available a free Elder Abuse Protection Toolkit for seniors, caregivers, and the general public. The toolkit includes important information needed to not only protect Alabama seniors from abuse, neglect and exploitation, but also teaches them how to “recognize” and “report” elder abuse crimes.

The toolkit provides a list of questions that seniors should ask themselves; a financial scam quiz which they can complete; and information on the four primary methods used by scam operators to target seniors.

Anyone interested in receiving a free copy of the Elder Abuse Protection Toolkit can contact the Alabama Department of Senior Services (ADSS) at 877-425-2243 or access the online version of the toolkit at www.alabamaageline.gov.

If you suspect elder abuse, neglect, or financial exploitation, please report it by contacting the Alabama Department of Human Resources' Adult Abuse Hotline at 800-458-7214 or emailing them at aps@dhr.alabama.gov. Reports can also be made by contacting your local county Department of Human Resources or your local law enforcement.
